First Security Bank

*One place for both bond underwriting
and financial consultation*

Will your next bond issue be based on sound fiscal planning?

Most public officials know First Security Bank as a major purchaser and underwriter of municipal bond issues. But we're much more than that.

The financial needs of your community are best served by basing municipal bond issues on careful analysis and informed judgment.

First Security has more than forty years of experience in providing financial consultation to cities, counties, and school districts.

If lack of staff, time, or expertise is affecting the quality of critical information you require, give us a call to find out how our experience can help you.

What is a Consulting Engineer?

A consulting engineer is an independent, professional engineer who performs services for clients on a fee basis. His services include engineering investigations and analyses, pre-planning, design and design implementation, and management without commercial or manufacturing affiliations which might bias his judgment.

His professional qualifications and integrity are his warranty that the best interest of the clients and the public are served when his services are retained on the basis of his qualifications and not on the basis of the lowest bidder.
